Foreword

“There should be a culture of continuous learning and improvement across the organisations that work together to safeguard and promote the welfare of children, identifying opportunities to draw on what works and promote good practice” (Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018).

Welcome to the Wigan Safeguarding Children’s Partnership (WSCP) learning and development brochure, which outlines the multi-agency learning and development opportunities available for staff working with children, young people and their families for 2024/25. Multi-agency training equips people to work effectively with those from other agencies to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and their families.

The WSCP Learning and Improvement Sub-Group share clear and robust responsibilities in line with the partnership practice priorities, outlined below, to ensure that a detailed programme of training is provided in order that the developmental needs of partner agencies, organisations and individual practitioners are effectively met. The programme offers a fantastic variety of training opportunities delivered by members of the WSCP training pool, developed in line with WSCP practice priorities.

WSCP has continued the partnership with Virtual College and My E-Learning to develop innovative e-learning solutions to enhance the learning process for those who work within our Borough.

All training is available to schools via a comprehensive service level agreement or via individual purchases.

As part of our commitment to continued improvement, WSCP will review learning and development on an ongoing basis with the purpose of ensuring that there is a multi-agency training, learning and development offer that can reflect current legislation and guidance, be informed by the latest research and reviews of practice (including Child Safeguarding Practice Review’s nationally and locally) and fit the needs of an evolving workforce. As these reviews are an ongoing process, this learning and development offer will continue to evolve throughout the year and beyond.

WSCP have agreed the following practice priorities to drive the work of the partnership:

Families and Networks:

Where it is safe to do so, we want you to grow up within your own family; if not, we will support you to keep seeing them. It is our job to work really hard from the very beginning to identify who is in your network and help you have relationships with important people for the rest of your life. We will do genograms (family trees) and have meetings with your important people (family network meetings and family group conferences).

Communication and Relationships:

We will treat you, your family and the people who are important to you, the way we would want to be treated; we will listen to you, be honest with you, keep in touch with you and care about how you feel. We will celebrate all the brilliant things about your family, and will work side by side with you, your family and the people who are important to you, like a team. If your worker has to change, we will make sure your new worker knows all about you.

We will try to understand what your life is like; we will listen to you carefully and take actions based on what you tell us.

Meaningful Intervention:

You, your families and the people who are important to you will understand why we are working with you; you will all be involved in your assessments and plans and will have your own copies of these. The work we do with you will make a difference. We will help you to understand your life story through our use of impact chronologies, direct work, goodbye letters and life story work.

Looking After You:

If you do come into our care, we will make sure you understand why decisions have been made about who you are living with, and if things feel tricky, we will find the right support for you. We will keep trying to support you to have a sense of belonging in the home where you live, feel connected to important people, develop confidence in yourself, enjoy successes, recover/get better from the hurt you have suffered, and have aspirations and hopes for the future.

General Course Information

Choosing a course

It is important that applicants apply for the right course to suit their role and level of experience / knowledge, therefore applicants should check the aims and objectives to help determine that a course meets learning and development needs. For some courses there may be a pre-requisite to complete eLearning before attending the face-to-face session.

Accessibility

Every effort will be made to ensure that our training is accessible to everyone. Should you have any additional requirements which would enhance your learning and participation on a course, please contact the team on wscbtraining@wigan.gov.uk. We will make every effort to meet these needs, and if this is not possible, we will contact you to discuss.

Signing in

Delegates are required to sign the attendance register provided at the start of a course. Failure to do so may result in a participant not receiving a certificate and / or being charged for non-attendance. If a participant's name does not appear on the register the trainer has the right to request that person does not stay for the course, or that the participant provides a copy of their confirmation email.

Late arrival / early departure

We understand that unavoidable circumstances may mean that a participant is late for a course or needs to leave early. If you know in advance that this may be an issue for you please contact the team on 01942 486 111 or wscbtraining@wigan.gov.uk. The team has the right to refuse a place(s) if a participant(s) may miss a significant section of the session.

Evaluation form

Delegates are required to complete an evaluation form at the beginning and end of the course. The feedback received from these forms helps to refine the content of the programme to meet participant need and continue to fulfil the aims and objectives of the course.

Methods of training

Training events will include a range of delivery methods as appropriate to appeal to a number of different learning styles. These include formal input, group work, SCR and LCR case studies, individual tasks, e-Learning and the use of visual media.

How to access learning

Learning agreement

Wigan Safeguarding Children's Partnership will:

- Email you with handouts to print off before or after the training course.
- Provide you with up-to-date training in accordance with learning objectives set.
- Ensure that you are kept informed about your place and any changes which may arise.
- Ensure that special needs are met where possible.
- Discrimination and/or oppressive behaviour or language will be sensitively challenged.
- Listen to comments made through evaluation with a view to making changes to courses where appropriate.
- Will create a safe learning environment where confidentiality will be maintained unless this impacts on the welfare of a child or adult at risk.
- Will raise concerns which may arise during training with regards to practice.
- Will evaluate and review courses on an annual basis.
- Will carry out post training evaluation on some courses to determine the impact of training.

We expect delegates to:

- Print off and bring handouts if circulated prior to the training.
- Notify WSCP training by email (wscbtraining@wigan.gov.uk) if they are unable to attend a course five working days prior to the course date.
- To keep to time and notify the board on 01942 486 111 if you are going to be late.

- To organise the payment of the cancellation fee if the staff member or volunteer does not attend the course without giving five working days' notice.

Cost Recovery Policy

Non-attendance or cancellation of training courses

Unfortunately, we continue to experience a significant problem with the number of people cancelling training with very little notice, or simply not attending the course without letting us know in advance, which results in wasted training places. As demand for WSCP courses is high and some applicants may be unsuccessful in securing a place, early cancellation is important to ensure that the place can be offered to another person.

If you wish to cancel a place you have applied for you must email wscbtraining@wigan.gov.uk

A minimum of 5 working days prior to the course date is essential to avoid charges. Where charges will be applied, we will request that you provide the cost code for your service and your line managers contact details.

Failure to attend a course or late cancellation will result in the following charges (see Table above).

Furthermore, we are still seeing high numbers of requests for eLearning courses that are not being completed. For every course that is not completed the Safeguarding Board incurs a charge for an unused licence. As we do not wish to restrict training courses, a £25 charge will be applied to every course that is not completed within 6 weeks of being requested to cover the cost of wasted licences.

Course duration	Charge
Up to 3 hours	£50
1 Full day	£100
2 Full days	£200
